Language used for the training: English

Description: The course has been designed to provide tools to prepare European teachers for a future that happens today. One of the main purposes of today's education is to build a school for students, where they can interact with their peers of the same age group and be active subjects of the learning community. An inclusive school implements and develops a set of measures aimed at giving response to each and every student's need through the acknowledgement and the valuing of difference. The trainers are enthusiastic educational agents, namely teachers with a broad experience and actively involved in Special Education.

Course Objectives:

- Promote the debate about Key Competences for 21st Century Citizens;
- Present and debate methodologies, strategies and resources for a differentiated teaching;
- Reflect on intervention strategies in the classroom environment and school in general;
- Experiment and develop new learning practices and teaching methods;
- Improve educational practices through collaborative working approaches among teachers;
- Promote educational innovation and stimulating the use of ICT in schools;
- Develop methodologies, strategies, techniques and resources for a differentiated teaching;
- Create spin-off effects like curriculum development and research collaboration;
- Improve educational practices through collaborative working approaches among teachers;
- Increase knowledge of social, linguistic and cultural matters.
